Lead Product Manager (for IDEs)

At JetBrains, code is our passion. Ever since we started back in 2000, we have been striving to make the most effective developer tools on earth. By automating routine checks and corrections, our tools speed up production, freeing developers to grow, discover, and create.The IntelliJ department is JetBrains' biggest and includes both IDE and non-IDE products.We're currently looking for a visionary Lead Product Manager who will focus on our IDE products group. This position will help us further unlock the potential of our IDEs.In this role, you will:Contribute to the overall strategy of the company by focusing on different developer profiles, and translating it into a vision that balances users' needs, business goals, and resource limitations.Manage a team of product managers and help them grow and achieve results.Analyze and find solutions for end users and whole team scenarios.Develop and maintain a product roadmap that addresses short- and long-term product goals for IDEs.Generate, prioritize, and test hypotheses, sometimes using out-of-the-box methods.Work closely with developers, analysts, researchers, technical writers, developer advocates, and marketing and product managers across the IntelliJ department and the wider company.We'll be happy to have you on our team if you:Look beyond features and prioritize user scenarios.Have at least five years of product management experience or equivalent with a proven record of driving multiple product directions simultaneously.Have experience in managing people.Are proficient in both spoken and written English.Have strong collaboration skills and an ability to work effectively with members of cross-functional teams and to influence stakeholders at all levels.Focus on improving the environment around you, whether coaching and mentoring peers or addressing internal operations.Are comfortable communicating across different product teams and with a wide range of business stakeholders.Have a technical education or software engineering experience.We'd be especially thrilled if you:Have worked with developer tools before, even if only as a user.Have experience working with both B2C and B2B product development.
We process the data provided in your job application in accordance with the Recruitment Privacy Policy (https://www.jetbrains.com/legal/privacy/privacy-recruitment.html).